Move planned for school superintendent's office

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK
Hancock County Supervisors voted Thursday to purchase a telephone system for the county school superintendent's new offices. Following the installation of telephones, the superintendent's offices should be relocated to the administration building at Stennis International Airport within three weeks, Superintendent Terrell Randolph said.

"We can't move the offices prior to end of the month billing and payroll," Randolph said, "but we should be moved by March 15."

The telephones will be purchased on a lease-purchase agreement at a state bid price, from Scientific Telecommunication of Greenwood. The total cost for the phones will be $5,972.43, to be paid in 36 monthly installments of $202.60.

Also during the supervisors meeting, Supervisor James Trivica submitted two estimates for 3,600 square feet of insulation for the superintendent's new offices.

Markel Lumber Company of Waveland had the low bid of $1,072. W. A. McDonald of Bay St. Louis submitted a bid of $1,119.

Supervisor A. A. Keller, board president, announced during the meeting that a petition in protest of the bond sale for the new hospital had been filed in the chancery clerk's office.

Only 357 of the required 2,000 signatures were included on the petition, so the bond sale would proceed as scheduled, he said.

Hancock General Hospital Administrator Phil Langston told the supervisors that plans for the new hospital are more than 50 percent complete and that the bid package should be out by mid-April.

Hancock resident Mary Caillier asked the supervisors how much the consumers' cost would rise when the new hospital was completed.

Langston assured Mrs. Caillier that patients costs would be competitive.

"Our prices won't be any higher than other coast hospitals," he said.

In other business, Hancock County Sheriff Ronald Peterson asked the board request a local and private bill allowing the sheriff's department officers to use a radar to check speeding.

Peterson told the board Senator Gene Taylor had said a state bill allowing sheriffs to use radars would not likely be passed.

According to Peterson, Taylor said he had received several calls and letters from Hancock Countians in support of the bill.

The board unanimously voted to request the bill.

They also voted to request for a local and private bill so the supervisors can use money from their road and bridge funds to maintain recreational facilities in their districts.

The bill would allow supervisors to use up to $25,000 each, or the equivalent of returns from one mill in taxes for the county.

Beat 3 Supervisor Roger Dale Ladner requested the resolution.

He said a car had hit the fence of a ballpark in his district and he needed to get that fixed, as well as needing funds for the general maintenance of the park.

The board also agreed that Beat 4 Supervisor Sam Perniciaro should represent the county at the National Association of Counties Legislative Conference in Washington, D.C. in March.

While in Washington, the organization will be lobbying for revenue sharing. The county currently receives approximately $400,000 to $500,000 in federal revenue sharing annually.

Sheriff begins crackdown

By ELLIS CUEVAS
A concentrated crack down on out-of-state license tags has begun in Hancock County, according to Sheriff Ronnie Peterson.

Peterson said late Friday, "Circuit Court is now over for awhile and the sheriff's office will have time to set up road blocks to check illegal tags, drivers licenses, and brake tags."

"The law states a person has 30 days to get a Mississippi tag upon moving in from out-of-state and 60 days for a drivers license," Peterson stated.

Some 40 tickets were issued on Thursday by two officers for auto violations in just a few hours, Peterson said.

Peterson continued, "Our office has received numerous reports about autos being driven by residents with out-of-state tags, and road blocks will be set up especially near schools."

Persons taken to court are usually issued a fine in addition to having to purchase proper tags and licenses, the sheriff stated.

Residents to serve on beachfront improvements advisory council

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK
Several local residents gathered Thursday with representatives of the Gulf Regional Planning Commission and the Bureau of Marine Resources for an organizational meeting of the Hancock County Technical Advisory Council for the Beachfront Improvement Project.

Agreeing to serve on the council were attorney John Scaffidi; Clarice Gustin, Chamber of Commerce director; Hancock County Supervisor Bert Courrege; Donn Murray, county building inspector; and Terrence Feeney.

Others invited to be a member of the council include C. C. McDonald, Frank Lee, Larry Bennett, Sam Perniciaro, Bobby Boudin, Larry Seal, Louis Smolensky, Dick Thomas and Ellis Cuevas.

The council is part of the overall plan for beachfront improvements in both Hancock and Harrison counties.

Improvements planned in the project include replenishment of the sand beach and construction of public showers, restrooms and recreational facilities, such as piers. The emphasis of the project will be restoration and conservation, not commercialization.

The study currently underway to make a master plan for improvements is being partially funded by the Bureau of Marine Resources.

Jeff Taylor of Gulf Regional Planning, who chaired the meeting, told members to encourage any other citizens who would be interested in serving on the council to attend the next meeting.

The council has tentatively planned to meet at 4 p.m. on the first Wednesday of each month.

At the meeting Thursday Taylor outlined objectives of the beachfront improvement plan for the council and listed possible working subcommittees including legal, financial, erosion and environment, facility planning and public relations.

The project needs this master plan so improvements can be made over a period of time, Taylor said.

He added that there was not a bundle of money just waiting to be used for this project but there is a need for sound plans that maximize local monies.

Taylor said having the financial plan as well as the improvement plan could assist in matching the local funds with state and federal dollars.

"They want to know that, not only that you have your planning act together, but that you have your financial act together and can carry some portion of the cost of the projects," he said.

Taylor said although the projects for the two counties is for beachfront improvement, each county will basically have their own "little master plan."

"Even though the two beaches are similar in that they are sand, they are different in that they are two geographically different places, and subject to different erosion problems, different use problems and just different perceptions on how the beach should be used by the people who live around them," he said.

Where the two counties can get together is on the sharing of consultants that will be hired, legal research and investigation of ways to solve some of the problems, Taylor said.

"A reason for trying to put together a fairly comprehensive and

ACCIDENT VEHICLE—This Chevy Nova landed on a pile of trash on US-90 East of Washington Street Thursday morning after striking a pickup truck from the rear, knocking down a mail box, damaging a real estate sign, jumping a ditch, and destroying a utility pole, Joe Pica, Bay St. Louis police investigator, said. Elvin Lane, 36, of Bay St. Louis, driver of the car, was taken to Hancock General Hospital by Mobile Medic. Pica said Lane was treated for a sprained ankle and released from the hospital. Jeffrey L. Delle of Bay St. Louis was driver of the pickup. Lane was charged with allegedly driving under the influence, causing an accident, and disturbing the peace, Pica stated. Murray Ladner, acting police chief, said that Lane is scheduled to appear before Bay St. Louis Municipal Court Judge Joseph Benvenuti next Wednesday. (Staff photo by Ellis Cuevas).

Washington's Birthday, Mardi Gras bring respite

By DENA BISNETTE
Mardi Gras celebrations and a federal holiday will change schedules this week for local schools, government offices, post offices and banks.

Weekend Mardi Gras parades continue at 2 p.m. Sunday with the St. Paul's Carnival Association Parade in Pass Christian.

Floats and other parade entries will line up at Davis Avenue and move west on Scenic Drive to US-90 and Henderson Avenue. The parade will then turn north at St. Louis Street and move east on West Second Street, disbanding at War Memorial Park.

In Bay St. Louis the Krewe of Real People will continue accepting entry applications for parade participants through Monday.

The KOPR parade will begin at 11 a.m. Tuesday at the corner of St. Francis and Bookter streets in Bay St. Louis.

The parade will proceed east on Bookter to Necaise, north on Necaise to Main, east on Main to Second and down Second to Bay St. Louis City Hall, where Krewe royalty will meet city officials for a toast.

After stopping at city hall, the parade will continue on Second Street to Union, Union to Hancock, Hancock to Sycamore, Sycamore to Old Spanish Trail, Old Spanish Trail to Bookter, and Bookter to St. Francis.

Participants will disband at Com-magere Park.

Anyone interested in entering the Krewe of Real People Parade as an individual or unit may contact Charles Johnson at 467-9204, Jean Dorsey at 467-7980 or Lonnie Bradley at 377-3996.

The Krewe of Triton will also parade on Tuesday.

The Triton Parade begins at 2 p.m. at Our Shopping Center in Waveland and will move east down US-90 to the A&P Shopping Center in Bay St. Louis, where the participants will disband.

Bay St. Louis and Hancock County Schools will close Monday and Tuesday in observance of Mardi Gras. Classes will resume Wednesday according to regular schedule.

Arsa post offices will not observe Mardi Gras but will be closed Monday in observance of Washington's Birthday, a federal holiday, according to Bay St. Louis Postmaster Tom Hill.

Mail will be collected and dispatched from the post offices at Bay St. Louis and Pass Christian, but all operations will be shut down at Waveland, Kiln, Pearlinton, Clermont Harbor and Lakeshore.

The Hancock County Courthouse will also be closed Monday, but will reopen Tuesday according to regular schedule.

Tuesday will also be the first day of the county's Chancery Court term and a meeting day for the board of supervisors, Chancery Clerk Michael Necaise said.

City Halls in Bay St. Louis and Waveland will remain open Monday but will close Tuesday in observance of Mardi Gras.

Because city hall will be closed, Tuesday's Bay City Council meeting has been moved to 7 p.m. Thursday.

Garbage collection in Bay St. Louis will continue according to its usual schedule, but Tuesday collections in Waveland will be moved to Wednesday.

Local financial institutions, with the exception of the NSTL branch of Hancock Bank, will remain open Monday.

Nicolaou indicted again

A reconvened Hancock County grand jury indicted 19-year-old Allen Nicolaou for capital murder as a habitual offender Wednesday.

He had been indicted earlier but the original indictment against Nicolaou, who is charged with capital murder in connection with the Oct. 27 suffocation death of cellmate Charles Allen Poole, was cited as faulty and thrown out by Circuit Judge J. Ruble Griffin.

Nicolaou had been brought back to the Coast from the state penitentiary for motion hearings filed by Public Defender William Frisbie.

Frisbie had requested the original indictment be thrown out because the section of the state law under which Nicolaou was charged was not listed.

Griffin approved the motion and recommended that the case be returned to the grand jury.

Another motion filed by Frisbie was for a change of venue. Frisbie says his client cannot receive a fair trial in Hancock County.

If convicted for Poole's murder, Nicolaou will either be given the death sentence or will receive a life sentence without parole.

At the time of Poole's death, Nicolaou was awaiting transfer from the Hancock County Jail to the state penitentiary. Nicolaou was to serve two consecutive life sentences in connection with the January 1984 murders of Gerald Comiskey and Keith McMillan in Waveland.

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following article is authored by Walt M. Rostow, Rex G. Baker Jr., Professor of Political Economy at the University of Texas at Austin. He was chairman of the Policy Planning Council at the Department of State (1961-66) and special assistant to the president for National Security Affairs (1966-69).

Theme of the article deals with the Constitution written so that foreign policy is inescapably the President's problem; members of Congress, after being consulted, return to Capitol Hill and leave foreign policy to the President.

American Foreign Policy: The President, Congress, and Public Opinion

By Walt W. Rostow

Foreign policy debates in the last several months have centered around Lebanon and Central America.

In both cases, part of the debate has been over the power of Congress to influence or control administration policy.

Congress tried to invoke the War Powers Act in Lebanon, and won concessions from the administration.

In Central America, Congress now requires certification of progress in human rights as a condition of assistance to Honduras and El Salvador.

The question raised in these debates is whether Congress has a constructive role in the formation of foreign policy, or whether it is a hindrance to effective conduct of foreign policy by the President.

J. William Fulbright, writing in "Foreign Affairs" for the Spring of 1979, had this to say: "...I confess to increasingly serious misgivings about the utility of the Congress to play a constructive role in our foreign relations."

American history provides a good deal of support for the distinguished senator's retrospective skepticism.

We all know that the Constitution is written so as to focus the attention of Congress on their districts and states and, therefore, on local public opinion.

We all know that Congress is a diffuse and changing body. There are experienced and wise members of Congress, with a knowledge of foreign affairs to match any in the Executive Branch.

Presidents should and often do seek their views; but advice is different from responsibility.

Collectively, Congress can, at certain moments, act and even act decisively in foreign policy; but there is no continuing locus of responsibility.

Moreover, the Congress can change its view on an issue of foreign policy, responding to the swings of public opinion, in a way denied to the President.

Above all, Congress can, if it wishes, avoid acting on a problem, leaving the burden of action and political risk to the President.

Having been involved in the business of the Executive Branch, in one way or another, on and off since the summer of 1941, I wish I could accept the Fulbright doctrine and make a straightforward case for a presidential monopoly in foreign affairs.

But neither my knowledge as a historian, nor my experience as a public servant, nor, above all, the dictates of the Constitution permit me to do so.

Constructive or not, the Constitution mandates an important role for Congress in foreign affairs; and, in the end, I am sure the Founding Fathers were wise in this as in other matters.

Those who would understand our nation's performance in foreign affairs are left, therefore, with the complex task of trying to sort out the patterns and lessons to be drawn from 195 years of Executive-Congressional relations in foreign policy: years of quiet, of occasional study, partnership, and of stormy contention—never more stormy, incidentally, than in the first quarter-century of the nation's constitutional life.

Almost two centuries later, the major conflicts between the President and the Congress in foreign policy are still the consequence of a lack of stable consensus in our society on the national interest.

With respect to Europe and the European balance of power, perhaps something of a consensus has been achieved and institutionalized; although the consensus is periodically challenged and cannot be taken for granted.

And we have three times reacted strongly to reestablish, after going slack, what we hoped was an adequate military balance with the Soviet Union—after the invasion of South Korea in June 1950; after the Soviet launching of Sputnik in October 1957; and in the wake of the Soviet invasion of Afghanistan.

But, by and large, the behavior of the United States in foreign policy in this century has conformed to Dr. Samuel Johnson's dictum: "Depend upon it, Sir, when a man knows he is to be hanged in a fortnight, it concentrates his mind wonderfully."

We have oscillated between isolationism, indifference, wishful thinking and complacency on the one hand and, on the other, the panic-stricken retrieval of situations already deteriorating dangerously.

We recognized our national interest only when we faced real and present danger—a rather dangerous habit in a nuclear age.

That is roughly what Alexis de Tocqueville, writing a century and a half ago, said we would do.

And that oscillation explains, I believe, a high proportion—not all—of the tensions between President and Congress in foreign policy.

By and large—without higher intellect or virtue and with some exceptions—presidents have perceived the national interest in a steadier way than public opinion or a Congress mandated by the constitution to be attentive and sensitive to public opinion.

The remedy for this dangerous cyclical behavior, to the extent there is remedy, clearly lies in a sustained effort by our political leaders to develop a wide bipartisan consensus on the nature of the nation's abiding interest in the world scene—an effort not rendered easier because there is an ideological strand embedded within us which would deny that we, like other nations, have abiding interests.

Now a final reflection. We can hope that our society evolves a more mature and stable notion of its relation to the rest of the world; and we can all try to contribute to the emergence of a more stable consensus.

But we shall still need from time to time, I suspect, the exercise by our presidents of a little noted extraconstitutional dimension of our political life.

The White House is, in a good sense, a haunted house. The family quarters are cheerful and indeed, modest by standards of other homes of heads of state.

All the presidents since John Adams lived there—Adams for only a few months. Lincoln ran the war from what is now known as the Lincoln Bedroom.

It is hard for a president in that house to escape a living sense of his predecessors and successors. He knows that his predecessors often left office defeated—and, if not defeated, with the mob howling at their heels, as did President Washington.

Often this was because they did what they deeply believed was the right, but unpopular, thing for the country.

Presidents are and should be politicians, and they don't like to be unpopular, but they also wish to be worthy of the best in their predecessors and to be respected by their successors.

From, say, John Adams' determination to avoid war with France at the possible cost of his reelection, down through Harry Truman's firing of Douglas MacArthur and Lyndon Johnson's stoic pursuit of a cautious and unpopular strategy in southeast Asia, to Gerald Ford's response to the Mayaguez incident in the midst of a political mood that simply wanted Southeast Asia to disappear off the face of the earth, we have needed that kind of lonely, unilateral courage from our presidents.

We shall continue to need it.

A lot of preparation and expense go into the many Mardi Gras parades in our area each year. These expenses are borne by the members of the various carnival organizations, and parades are free to spectators.

We would like to take this opportunity to thank each carnival organization and krewe member for bringing such entertainment each year.

Mardi Gras is a time for everyone to enjoy themselves and have a good time.

The Mardi Gras season here will reach its peak for 1985 during the next few days with several of the best parades still to come.

This afternoon the St. Paul Carnival Association's parade is scheduled for 2 p.m. across the Bay in Pass Christian.

The large parade begins at 2 p.m. on Davis Street behind the Memorial Park, Davis to Scenic Drive, then West on Scenic and onto US-90 to Henderson, Henderson to Second, Second to Davis.

The Pass Christian parade probably has more individual floats than any other on the Coast.

Fat Tuesday's festivities begin in Bay St. Louis at 11 a.m. when the Krewe of Real People parades.

The parade forms at St. Francis and Bookter Streets, moves down St. Francis to Necaise, Necaise to Main, Main to Second, Second to City Hall to toast Bay officials, then to Union to Bookter, Bookter to the Old Spanish Trail, then disbands on St. Francis.

Real People is still taking float applications until Monday. Persons interested can call Charles Johnston 467-9204 or Jean Dorsey at 467-7980.

This will be the first year for the Krewe of Real People to throw doubloons.

At 2 p.m. Tuesday, the Krewe of Triton will parade down US-90 from Our Shopping Center in Waveland to Ulman Avenue in Bay St. Louis.

This will be the 11th year for Triton to parade. So we still have a lot of Mardi Gras to go.

We hope everyone will have a safe and Happy Mardi Gras.

Memo from George Dale, Mississippi Insurance Commissioner.

We Want to Save You Money.

Everyone needs insurance. It's one of the best bargains today, particularly when you have a loss. But, are you paying too much? Do you need all of the coverages you presently have?

Let's look at some ways you can save money on your insurance. AUTOMOBILE INSURANCE—How old is your car? Do you still need collision insurance on it? And if so, can you now afford a higher deductible? The answer to both of these questions may save you money. The higher the deductible, or the amount you pay in the event of a loss, the more dollars you can save on your insurance premium. And, if your car is very old you might consider dropping collision coverage entirely.

HOME INSURANCE—There are lots of ways to save money on your home insurance. First and foremost, make sure that the amount you insure your home for is at least 80% of the value of the home and property. It is important to make sure, should you have a loss, that your home will be restored to the way it was prior to the loss.

Do you have a smoke or fire alarm?

Are the possessions in your house valuable enough to have a burglar alarm? Have you considered a dead-bolt lock on the door of your house to keep burglars out? All these items can save you money and perhaps aggravation. If you're shopping around to purchase a new home, consider the construction of the home. If brick construction is your choice, it can save you money. Insurance is less expensive on a brick home because it's less likely to burn as quickly or as totally as a frame construction. Consider where you buy your home. If you buy in an area that has a particularly good fire department and has more than sufficient quantity of water and high pressure, then the fire protection class in that area will result in a lower price for your insurance. A fire protection class of 10 is a rural area and more expensive; whereas, a Town Class I would be an urban area with a highly efficient fire department.

All of these items can save you money. And we in the Insurance Department are working hard to find new ways to help you get the best product for the least amount of money.

Poor salaries drive off the good teachers

Feb. 15, 1985

To the Editor

Dear Sir:

Quality education demands better teachers. To get better teachers we must pay for them. If we refuse to pay for quality education we really can not be surprised by the finished product; poorly prepared youngsters unable to compete in the world, unable to proceed in higher education.

If our young people can not develop in our society we will be plagued with a backward society, a backward community for the next generation and the generations that follow.

It does not take a college education to realize that if teachers do not receive a sufficient recompense they can not provide for themselves nor their families.

They will have to seek other employment to supplement their insufficient salaries.

When teachers are forced to work after school on weekends quality education suffers.

They do not have enough time to prepare for their classes and they do not have sufficient time to calm their nerves for the demands that the classroom makes on their patience.

The creativity of the teacher suffers when the curtailment of time for class preparation is decreased. Quality teaching is a full time job, it demands time, talent and skill.

Not only do teachers have to supplement their salaries they are frequently tempted to sacrifice their desire to spend their efforts and life educating our youth for better paying jobs—they turn their talents to the business world.

The talented teachers are encouraged by better remuneration to give up the fight for better education for their own comfort and their families. And who can blame them.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Geraldine Lang

Washington's Birthday holiday a part of American History Month observance

Editor's Note: February is being observed as American History Month by the National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution. The following article is submitted by the local chapter's scribe in connection with that observance.

By Joe Pilet
Friendship Oak
DAR Scribe

Patriotic citizens throughout our United States Monday will celebrate the birthday of George Washington, father of our country.

In truth George Washington was not born on Feb. 18. He was the first child, born Feb. 22, 1732, of Augustine Washington and Mary Ball who were married on March 6, 1731.

Mary Ball Washington was the mother of six children. As a pioneer mother she worked very hard for her large family. She did the washing, sewing, cooking, gardening, spinning and weaving. There was no time for "coddling" youngsters. She was stern and demanded obedience.

Historians tell us Mrs. Washington was irritable and given to scolding. (Under those circumstances wouldn't anybody be?) Also Mrs. Washington smoked a pipe. Perhaps she was trying to quiet her nerves.

When Washington became famous he told his mother that her "habits of life would not be acceptable at Mount Vernon." She announced she had no intention of going anyway. So there.

Pancakes in various forms, from the delicate crepes of French cuisine, to the more robust versions of other countries and customs, have traditionally used the last of the eggs, the cream or milk, and the butter and other delectables forbidden during Lent in past centuries.

"One last feast—'the Carnival—'Carnivale'—farewell to meat— and pleasures of the table— before we don the sackcloth and ashes of Lent, so let's feast on Mardi Gras, Fat Tuesday, the feast before the fast!"

Pancakes on Shrove Tuesday, Mardi Gras, have been a part of my life as long as I can remember—in fact, one French nurse during my childhood days insisted on tossing a crepe atop the rosewood armoire in my parent's bedroom, each Mardi Gras to ensure luck during the year.

I don't remember what happened to those crepes, but someone must have removed them, because we still kept living in the house.

Lenten regulations have been altered in modern times, but, somehow I cling to the ways of the past at times, and, besides, I love pancakes or crepes or whatever you call them all around the clock or the calendar or the world.

I eat them for breakfast, smothered in butter and cane sugar; for lunch as a base for creamed chicken or vegetables; as an appetizer at cocktail time, and so on around the clock and the calendar.

Pancakes, or crepes, are excellent bases for fillings, and so on—but, since Shrove Tuesday, or Mardi Gras, is almost upon us, let's make the basic Mardi Gras crepes for our breakfast, and lace them heavily with butter and syrup—better to face the rigors of Lent! Here's:

BASIC CREPES

(A basic crepe batter, add sugar if you want to make sweet dessert crepes and such).

- 2 cups flour
- 4 large eggs
- 1 cup cold milk
- 1 cup cold water
- 4 Tbsp. butter, melted
- Oil (salad or peanut)

Combine flour and eggs, with a dash or so of salt if you wish, and blend well. Blend in milk and water and butter and mix well, refrigerate the batter at least two hours, so the flour particles will swell a bit and the crepes will be light in texture.

Brush the bottom of your crepe pan or heavy iron skillet (my preference) very lightly with the oil and heat the pan till just hot, not smoking. Pour just about a quarter of a cup of batter in the pan, and ever so swiftly tilt the pan so the batter runs in a thin film. Flip when a bit brown and easily shaken loose from the bottom of the pan, and cook on the other side.

Serve with melted butter and syrup or whatever—and enjoy—for Lent is almost here!

(Copyright, 1985, Katharine D.M. Calre)

Was Washington of noble lineage?

That is a moot question. When questioned he is said to have replied: "The history of my ancestors, is of small moment and I confess I have paid little attention." He did, however, have a book plate and a coat of arms on his carriage door. Burke's "Peerage" makes no mention of Washington.

We accept George Washington as a noble man. Noble in character if not by birth. Washington had sterling qualities, and certainly set a fine example as a soldier, a statesman, planter and his rise to the rank of First President of the United States is ample recognition of his worth and abilities.

Of his boyhood not much is known. We know he was tall and slender. He had long arms and big bones. Was strong. A good wrestler and swimmer. Was unexcelled as a horseman. He got along well with the Indians. They named him "Conotancarius." Suggested that he take an Indian squaw as wife and become their chief. He was 21 at that time. Put that down in your Trivia game.

During all of his adult life Washington kept a diary and cash account records. Of particular interest is an entry dated May, 1758: one engagement ring £2,16.0 (two pounds, 16 shillings). It seems that Washington when enroute to Williamsburg stopped to pay a brief call on Mrs. Daniel Parke-Custis, a widow of seven months, and the mother of two children.

She was 26, the same age as Washington, and they were very compatible. Washington proposed and eight months later they were married. Some say it was a marriage of convenience since Martha owned 15,000 acres of land, many lots in Williamsburg, 200 negroes and some money on bond and desperately needed a man she could trust to manage her estate.

She proved to be a model wife although her education was limited and her housekeeping, or lack thereof, kept things in confusion until a woman was hired to oversee.

A bit of Washington's history may be seen in Pass Christian. In the Live Oak Cemetery, enclosed in an ancient ornamental iron fence, is a grave with a tomb stone engraved on both sides.

It is near a DAR marker. This grave marks the resting place of Frances Parke Lewis Butler, daughter of Nellie Custis and Lawrence Lewis, born Nov. 27, 1797 and died June 30, 1875. She was the granddaughter of Martha Washington and great niece of George Washington. Beside the grave is that of her husband, Edward George Washington Butler, son of Isabella Fowler and Lt. Edward Butler. Also interred is Edward George Washington Butler Jr., Major, 11th Louisiana Volunteers, killed at Battle of Belmont, Missouri, November 1861.

The Washingtons have made their contribution to this country and recognition of this fact is both right and proper. Whether we give this acknowledgement of gratitude publicly with a display of flags or quietly in private meditation, it is a cherished custom to honor the birthday anniversary of George Washington.

George Washington's great-niece lies in Pass Christian's Live Oak Cemetery

On Car Maintenance

With new cars' cost averaging over $10,000, and more individuals utilizing self-service gasoline stations, it behooves all of us to take excellent care of our automobiles. Here are a few suggestions from the September 1984 Citibank Consumer Views:

Every Week

- Check tires, including spare, for recommended pressures.
- Check windshield-washer fluid.
- Check coolant level.
- Check engine-oil level.

Check all belts for proper tension

Every Month

- Check tires. If they show uneven wear, have alignment checked. Examine all hoses for flexibility, replace as needed. Check the battery fluid level. On modern care-free types, check the indicator on the battery.

Every Six Months

- Check transmission-fluid level.
- Rotate all five tires.
- Arrange for a dealer tune-up.

Have car waxed.

Have coolant checked and replace antifreeze.

Every Year

- Replace windshield-wiper blades.
- Replace engine air filter.
- Examine condition of transmission fluid.

—Remember: Change engine oil at least every 3,000 miles.

Every Two Years

—Have entire cooling system flushed and refilled.

—Have transmission flushed and refilled.

On Used Car Buying

A ruling by the FTC, to become effective May 1985, requires dealers of used cars to provide warranty and post-sale liability information to consumers. Dealers will be required to make specific disclosures on a buyer's guide placed in the side window of each used car that is for sale. The buyer's guide must provide the following information:

—a prominent statement of whether the car is for sale "as is." If the car is sold on this basis, the buyer will have to pay for any repairs after the sale.

—the terms of the warranty on the car.

—a warning that spoken promises on car sales are difficult to enforce. All promises should be in writing.

—a suggestion that the shopper get an independent inspection of the car.

—an identification on the back window of the major mechanical systems of the car and a list of major defects that occur in used cars, and —information on any service contracts available.

ASCS Report

FOREIGN DISCLOSURE REPORTS DUE

"Foreign persons who acquire or transfer any interest other than a security interest in Pearl River and/or Hancock County agricultural land are reminded to report the transaction to the ASCS office within 90 days.

Franklin A. Gennin, county executive director of the Pearl River-Hancock County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, said the reporting requirement stems from the Agricultural Foreign Investment Disclosure Act and gives USDA a survey of the amount of agricultural land owned by foreign persons.

Those who fail to report face possible penalties.

He said a report must be filed when a single foreign individual, organization, or government holds a direct or indirect interest of 10 percent or more; when a group of foreign individuals, organizations, or governments, acting in concert, hold an aggregate interest of 10 percent or more; and when a group of foreign individuals, organizations, and governments, not acting in concert, hold an aggregate of 50 percent interest or more in agricultural land.

The definition of agricultural land excludes all farm, ranch, forestry and timber land not exceeding 10 acres in the aggregate. However, if the annual sale of the farm, ranch, forestry or timber products produced on these acres exceeds $1,000 the land must be reported.

Foreign disclosure reports contain the date the land was acquired or transferred, the value of the purchase, yet to be paid, and the estimated value of the land.

Supervisors propose altering creek channel

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors has applied to the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers and the Mississippi Bureau of Pollution Control for permission to alter the channel of Hickory Creek as part of a bridge project.

The project is proposed in connection with improvements on the Anner-Necaise Road and consists of the construction of a box bridge.

The board needs permission from the Corps and the BPC for the excavation of about 2,366 cubic yards of material and the addition of about 175 cubic yards of fill material to straighten about 300 feet of creek channel.

A preliminary review of the application by the Corps indicates that the project will have no adverse effects on threatened or endangered species or their habitat.

JOURNEY OF DISCOVERY

Sea shells, crystals, honeycombs, eggs and seeds are shaped the way they are for a reason. "Nova" takes viewers on a unique journey of discovery to find out why things are shaped the way they are and why they work so well.

"The Shape of Things" can be seen on "Nova" at 8 p.m. Tuesday, Feb. 19 on Mississippi ETV.

There are certain basic patterns in nature that are repeatedly found among both plants and animals, large and small, ancient and present-day. They include spheres, spirals, helixes, polygons and meanders. "Nova" cameras reveal that these shapes are the results of many forces, including size, the rate of growth and environmental factors like cold, wind and gravity.

The program probes why there have probably never been snowflakes that are identical; what trees and rivers have in common.

In conjunction with this action the board voted to request the U.S. Navy Construction Battalion (Seabees) to remove the piling from the old Bay Bridge at the end of Ulman Avenue. Travira asked that the Seabees also be requested to build a concrete bulkhead around the oak tree near the Ulman Avenue pier.

No consensus on the problems and the solutions has ever been documented, Taylor added.

"A big effort will be made to solicit the public opinion through various opinion polls, mail-outs and other ways to try and let the officials know what the public is thinking, so when decisions are made about implementation, that they will be done with backing of the public."

"Waterfront and shorefront areas of this country nationwide are receiving renewed interest and input and people are flocking back to them," he said.

Development of these areas is under a great deal of pressure and developing them wrong will end up hurting the county forever," Taylor added.

This is a planning project that will involve a great deal of work by the council, he said.

Taylor also gave council members a calendar plan of the objectives, with the final plan to be selected in November of this year.

KING TRITON XI DR. THOMAS B. MURPHREE JR.

Triton takes 'Magic' to Coast Coliseum

'Mystical And Magical Enchanted World' was the theme of Triton's 11th annual tableau.

Magic! The mystical and magical world came to life on Saturday night at the Mississippi Coast Coliseum as the Krewe of Triton presented its tableau.

In keeping with the Mardi Gras tradition, the Royal Court of 1984 was presented, recalling the colorful theme, Recollections.

Portraying the knights of the round table, the officers of Triton guided their guests as they entered the enchanted realm.

The kingdom of the unknown and the deep and dark secrets were represented by krewe members depicting court jesters, gypsies, voodooes, elves, witches, genies and magicians.

In the midst of smoke, the Captain of Triton, portraying Merlin, the Enchanter, was introduced.

Maids and Dukes of the Royal Court represented the mythical and magical kingdom. The Maids were Mrs. Michael J. Hamm, portrayed One Thousand and One Arabian Nights; Mrs. Clarence L. Moran recalled the Egyptian Goddesses; Mrs. William N. Eckert represented The Winter Kingdom; Mrs. Nicholas M. Haas depicted Atlantis; Mrs. John A. Deem represented Mardi Gras; and Mrs. Marlin B. Massicot recalled Shangri-La.

Dukes of the Royal Court were costumed similar to their respective Maids. His Royal Majesty, King Triton XI, Dr. Thomas B. Murphree Jr., portrayed the wise and understanding King Arthur, and Her Royal Majesty, Queen Amphitrite III, Mrs. Randolph C. Bourgeois, was Queen Guinevere from Camelot.

Entertainment for the Royal Court was provided by the Keesler Air Force Base Blue Review. Following the Grand March, the Captain and the Officers of Triton took their final bow.

All Court costumes and headpieces were designed by Edward W. Scanlan Jr. Randolph C. Bourgeois was master of ceremonies. Frankie Mann of New Orleans provided the music.

Pages to King Triton XI and Queen Amphitrite III were Richard L. Murphree and Martin M. Murphree, sons of Dr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Murphree Jr.

The Krewe of Triton Parade will be presented Tuesday, Feb. 19 at 2 p.m. The parade starts at Our Shopping Center on US-90 in Waveland and will proceed east on US-90 to the A&P Shopping Center in Bay St. Louis.

Krewe of Real People royalty depicts 'Heros And Heroines'

The Krewe of Real People held its annual coronation ball at the St. Augustine Seminary Gymnasium Saturday, Feb. 2.

Calvin R. Smith, King KORP I and Dianne Duvernay, Queen Di, were proclaimed the royal couple for the 1985 Mardi Gras Ball and Parade.

She is the daughter of Mr. Harry Leroy Lyons and the late Mrs. Doris Lyons. She is an active member of KORP and has sponsored many programs for the organization.

Queen Di wore a purple sequined gown with fitted right sleeve and bare left shoulder. She wore a single diamond around her neck to symbolize that she is the first queen to reign for KORP.

Her majesty's Medici collar of black, gold and silver sequins, designed by Maria Brock of New Orleans, complimented the matching mantles worn by the royal couple.

The mantles of white velvet and gold lame, were bordered in ermine, bejeweled with rhinestones, sequins and carnival masks. Flowed from their shoulders. Their crowns were made of Austrian rhinestones.

Maids to Queen Di and representing Bon Noir Amis were Geraldine Lang escorted by Lionel Bradley, Pamela V. Jones escorted by Willie C. Acker representing the Merry Makers Social and Pleasure Club, and Dierdre Bradley escorted by Edward Ishem Jr. of Les Dameselles and Kompee.

The Junior Court dressed in matching lavender, silk, off the shoulder gowns and carried lavender corsages.

Members of the court included Tabitha Collins escorted by Aaron Whavers, Dedria McGowan escorted by Shaun Henderson, Tina Marie Dorsey escorted by Quentin Bell and Katherine E. Smith escorted by Tyrone Laurie.

Preceding the introduction of the queen's maids, the Grand Marshall for 1985 was introduced. Mrs. Herta L. Smith, escorted by her son Brandon R. Smith, wore an emerald green velvet gown with a taffeta ruffle across the left shoulder.

Several buffet tables were arranged and music was provided by the Freeway Band of New Orleans, La.

The dance and reception were befitting King KORP and Queen Di, the real hero and heroine.

They waltzed and strutted to the music of Gladys Knight, "You Are My Hero." The court joined them in dance and toast as the royal couple proudly announced the opening of Mardi Gras 1985.

The Krewe of Real People invites bands, marchers, trucks, cars and other revelers to join in its carnival day parade which rolls through the streets of Bay St. Louis at 11 a.m. Tuesday.

Poyadou—Ortiz

Christ Episcopal Church was the setting for the January 12 marriage of Letitia Dawn Ortiz and Rodney Allen Poyadou, both of Waveland. The Rev. Charles John and The Rev. Henry Jessie officiated at the afternoon double ring ceremony with Eucharist.

The bride is the daughter of Dixie Ashman Ortiz of Waveland and David Ortiz of Santa Fe, N.M. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Manuel J. Poyadou of Waveland.

White bridal roses and greenery adorned the altar, while clusters of magnolia and white camellias with white satin bows decorated the communion rail. Bows and greenery marked the center aisle pews. Assisting with church decorations was Mrs. Pat Schott.

Nuptial music was presented by organist Mrs. Pat Hille and vocalist Mrs. Leigh Jessie, both of Bay St. Louis, and vocalist John Mason of Waveland.

Given in marriage by her grandfather, Mr. T.D. (Dix) Ashman, the bride wore a formal gown of white satin with Victorian bodice enhanced with appliques of pearled venise lace and a lace collar above a sheer yoke of English net. The Juliet sleeves were shadowed with lace decorated English net and revealed a satin bow. The full flared skirt was bordered with lace and extended to a chapel length train. She wore a matching headpiece of lace and pearls which held a waltz length lettuce-edged veil of illusion.

She carried a silk cascade bouquet of white roses, lily-of-the-valley and mauve sweetheart roses interspersed with satin picot ribbon. Pearl sprays and tiny wax flowers along with illusion puffs from her mother's bridal headpiece and veil were incorporated into her bouquet.

Michele Ashman of Waveland, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Glen (Sheila) Macquik of Bay St. Louis and Mrs. Bob (Tyla) Fitzsimmons of Kiln.

The attendants were identically attired in mauve satin gowns in a style similar to the bride's, each with fitted basque bodice, Juliet puff sleeves, high ring collar and flared skirt with brief sweep train. They carried white satin fans edged with crocheted lace and decorated with sprays of mauve roses, lilies, baby's breath and ribbon.

Miss Mindi Godwin of Waveland was flower girl. Ring bearer was Nicholas Kirk Necaise of Waveland, brother of the bride.

John Edgecombe of Bay St. Louis was best man.

Groomsmen were Anthony Sheffield of Waveland, cousin of the bride, and Steve Skelton of Bay St. Louis.

Ushers were Johnnie Sheffield and Michael Ashman, cousins of the bride, of Waveland.

The bride's mother was attired in a white crepe tea length dress with cross-draped bodice in white and pink. Mrs. Poyadou wore a street length black and white wool suit with a black velvet jacket. Both mothers wore corsages of white roses accented in mauve.

A reception followed at the home of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Dix Ashman, 107 Lafitte Dr., Waveland.

Highlighting the decorations was a 6-foot lighted replica of the wedding cake floating in the center of an indoor swimming pool. A creation of the bride's grandfather, the cake was trimmed in mauve roses to match the bridesmaids' dresses.

The bride's table featured a three tiered cake topped with ceramic bride and groom silhouette and flanked by three tiered candles and vases of white roses. The groom's cake, a fruitcake imported from Canada, was topped with lovebirds. Freshly cut camellias decorated throughout the house and floated in the pool.

Assisting at the reception were Sheri Ashman, Walter Rausch, Mrs. Pat Schott, Mrs. Mary Alice Ladner, Mrs. Walter Rausch and Mr. and Mrs. James Wedworth.

The couple will reside in Waveland.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Ashman of Greenville, Ontario, Canada; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ashman of Belleville, Ontario, Canada, great aunts and uncles of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. John Livesley of Anacaster, Ontario, Canada, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Sze of Hamilton, Ontario, Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Thomas, and Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Poyadou, groom's brother, of Metairie, La.; Mrs. Mary Mooney, grandmother of groom, and Mrs. Joanna Ladner and daughter Christy, all of Hattiesburg, sister and niece of groom; and Mr. and Mrs. Gary Norel of Metairie, La., cousin of groom.

Scardino—Wittmann

Theresa Alice Wittmann and Michael Jude Scardino were united in marriage January 26 in a 2 p.m. Nuptial Mass in St. Paul's Catholic Church in Pass Christian. Monsignor James McGough officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Wittmann III of Pass Christian. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. A.J. Scardino Jr., also of Pass Christian.

Arrangements of white gladioli, fugi chrysanthemums, carnations and greenery affixed to fountain candelabra adorned the sanctuary. Satin bows, baby's breath and greenery decorated the pews of the center aisle.

Musical selections were presented by organist Tom Bourdin of Pass Christian and soloist Mrs. Alan Noonan of Bay St. Louis.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore her mother's wedding gown of ivory silk pongee and chantilly lace. The rounded scoop neckline was appliqued with lace and pearls on a fitted basque bodice that had Juliet puffed sleeves which tapered to the wrist. The full, flared skirt had a chapel train and featured a self-bow at the back over a bustle, appliqued with re-embroidered lace. She wore a Juliet cap covered with lace and strewn with iridescents and pearls which held a fingertip veil of illusion.

She carried a cascade bouquet of white bridal roses, fugi poms, baby's breath, sprengeri and ming fern.

Julia W. Howard, sister of the bride, and Beth Schmidt, both of Pass Christian, were matron and

They carried modified crescent style bouquets of pale yellow roses, white fugi poms, baby's breath and sprengeri fern, and wore stylized headpieces of maline and shirred taffeta with a side bow.

Flower girls were Misses Heather Wittmann, sister of the bride, and Mary Scardino, sister of the groom, both of Pass Christian.

They wore ivory tea length dresses of cotton batiste with hand smocked yokes and lace edged collars with satin ribbon sashes. They wore headpieces of ivory silk blossoms and baby's breath and dropped rose petals in the path of the bride.

Matthew Scardino of Pass Christian served his brother as best man.

Groomsmen were Dennis Scardino and Kevin Scardino, brothers of the bride; Hank Logan and Jamie McKeough, all of Pass Christian.

Ushers were John Logan and Paul Scardino of Pass Christian.

A reception followed the ceremony at the Elk's Lodge in Gulfport.

Mrs. Wittmann chose for her daughter's wedding an ivory chiffon tea length dress with lace bodice topped with a lace jacket defined with a peplum of ribbon lace. Mrs. Scardino wore a periwinkle blue two piece dress of georgette crepe. Schiffli embroidery enhanced the Sabrina neckline.

On return from a wedding trip to Lake Tahoe, Calif., the couple will reside in Pass Christian.

St. Ann-St. John Carnival Association revels in 'Fairy Tales And Nursery Rhymes'

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Brechtel Sr. of Waveland reigned as king and queen Saturday night, Feb. 9, at Carnival Bal Masque XI at the parish hall where St. Ann-St. John Carnival Association entertained with the theme, "Fairy Tales and Nursery Rhymes."

Slapstick clowns cavorted around the throne room in a merry prelude to the Fairytale and Nursery Rhymes tableau.

Opening the colorful pagentry and making a dramatic entrance as Jack-in-the-box was ball captain Jim Davis, wearing traditional Mardi Gras finery, as he signaled the festivities to begin.

Allowing imaginations to run rampant and make-believe reign supreme, fairytale and nursery rhyme characters came alive as the theme unfolded in a romantic, fantasyland setting in Cinderella's castle.

The queen made an enchanting picture as Cinderella in a heavenly blue gown of chrysaline cloth accented with gold lame sleeves and peplum.

The fitted bodice featured heavily embroidered appliques of gold sequins. Her scooped neckline and full skirt were trimmed with rows of sparkling sequins.

Her majesty's white velvet mantle, delicately sprinkled with glittering gold stars and edged with gold sequins carried as its central motif a large golden pumpkin and a depiction of Cinderella's famous glass slipper, both outlined with silver sequins.

A bejeweled silver crown, matching sceptre, long white gloves and silver slippers completed her ensemble.

Maids to her royal highness, granddaughters of the king and queen, attired in identical gowns of white chrysaline cloth were Mary Comeaux, representing Mary, Mary Quite Contrary, carried a bouquet of pink roses; Holly Galiano, representing Little Red Riding Hood, carried a bouquet of red roses; Bridgette Gerdes, representing Snow White, carried a bouquet of white roses and Allison Robertson, representing Alice in Wonderland, carried yellow roses.

Reigning as Prince Charming, the king was attired in a military dress coat of sky blue satin, trimmed with gold braid, appliqued with gold and silver sequins and featured gold epaulettes.

For the occasion the royal monarch chose off-white trousers. A matching blue exaggerated top hat was lavishly adorned with white plumes.

His majesty's royal mantle of white velvet was similar to his queen's and featured as its central motif Cinderella's castle brilliantly outlined with silver and gold sequins.

His jeweled sceptre was similar in design to that of his queen's.

Dukes to his highness were George Comeaux, Norvin Galiano, Bobby Gerdes and Rob Robertson.

Following the Grand March His Royal Highness invited everyone to join him in a toast honoring last year's royal couple, King and Queen of 1984, Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Garcia who were also presented to the court.

Their Majesties' royal entertainment began with the spirited entrance of the "Friends from Waveland," Joe Cuccia, Beverly Coogan, Claire and Talmadge Conway, Dottie and Earl Barkmeyer and Margaret Heitzman, colorfully costumed depicting 1890's Bathing Beauties and Beaux in an afternoon on the beach; Cupid, Donald Mauffray, and the "Knives of Hearts," Conrad and Marie Mauffray, Charlotte Mauffray, Martha Van Peski, Donald Freeman and Rob McClure; Buddy Williams and his Merry Clowns, Louis Saucier, Helen Coleman, Lil Kenmure, Dottie Neubig, Velma Schmitt and Lou Hero.

Costumes were judged and winners were, in the group category, a tie between Friends from Waveland and Cupid and the Knives of Hearts. In the couples category was a tie between The Sheiks, Frank and Mary Schmisge, and Mickey and Minnie Mouse, Bill Luxich and Norma Bonney.

Receiving special recognition was Rita Davis, General Chairlady for the ball.

Acting as her assistants were Buddy Williams, scenery and decorations; assistants to royalty, Madonna Boos, Mildred Rupp and Eunice Foret; lights, Alvin Ladner; door committee, Lelia Saleeby and Ethel Ladner; refreshments, Frank Saucier and Bill Hero.

Carnival Association officers are Virginia Thomas, president; Theresa James, vice-president; and Juliette Ladner, treasurer.

American Legion Auxiliary Post 77

By Dr. Esther Oschmann

Foreign Relations Chairman

Recently I wrote about one of the major projects of the American Legion and the American Legion Auxiliary concerning the study of and the need for help in San Salvador.

It is well known that the American Legion and its auxiliary sponsor many projects that help veterans and their families.

Again this year we are supporting the National League of American War Prisoners and the search for those missing in Southeast Asia.

President Reagan in his memorial address honoring the Vietnam unknown soldiers, said, "It has been a lesson relearned, not only by Americans but by all the people of the world."

"Yet while the experience of Vietnam has given us a stark lesson that ultimately must move the conscience of the world, we must remember that we cannot today, as much as some might want to, close this chapter in our history, for the war in Southeast Asia still haunts a small but brave group of Americans...the families of those still missing in the Vietnam Conflict."

The President asks not only Congress, but all the veterans groups to give these families help and support for they still sacrifice and suffer. Continued support is of the utmost importance.

The American Legion Auxiliary, along with the American Legion, have always been strong supporters of the National League of Families, and the American Legion does provide, rent-free office space in their Washington headquarters.

Having met with Mrs. Ann Mills Griffiths, the executive director of the National League of Families, we learned there are no more unidentified remains from that era, thanks to the better records and scientific investigative aids available to us in Hawaii at the Identification Laboratory and the Joint Casualty Resolution Center, which is also located there.

Most states have a Prisoner of War/Missing in Action coordinator, Mississippi does not.

Don't break faith with our POW/MIA. Just write a short letter to Hanoi, SRV Representative to the UN, 20 Waterside Plaza, New York, N.Y. 10010. This is the very least we all can do for them.

The American Legion and American Legion Auxiliary also support the program of Radio Free Europe/Radio Liberty.

Do not confuse RFE/RL with the operations of "Voice of America." Their objectives are quite different.

The latter tries to tell the world, including the Communist Block nations what is going on in the United States and the Free World Block, whereas, Radio Free Europe/Radio Liberty broadcast news that tells the people in the Communist Block countries what is actually going on in their own countries and accumulates information from those countries.

Pass Christian Garden Club

The Pass Christian Garden Club held its regular monthly meeting February 7 at the Hancock Bank Annex.

Pilgrimage brochures giving full details of Coast Pilgrimages were distributed.

The membership expressed their sympathy at the recent death of Jean Hoke by electing to plant a tree in her memory.

There was further discussion of the Festival of Food and Fashion to be held Feb. 27 in the home of Mrs. Fred May, 12 Jackson Avenue. To assure the success of the fund raiser, the gourmet food is being prepared and contributed by the club members, with fashions presented by the Princess Shoppe. Members who have not yet made their reservations may do so with Mrs. William Leapey.

Mrs. Howard Haines led a very timely discussion of vegetable gardening—a subject for which she is uniquely fitted having a wealth of experience from which to draw.

The meeting closed with tea prepared by Misses Claire Knost, Marjorie Knost, and Mesdames Marvin Johnson, Roland Martin, Avery Katz, C.B. Kennedy, Martin Kelly and Fred May.
